Valparaiso University

Valparaiso, IN

Labyrinth Enterprises (Robert Ferré) and Labyrinths in Stone (Marty Kermeen) teamed up to install a unique labyrinth at Valparaiso University, in Indiana.

There were many difficult problems, with terrain, existing structures, drainage, retaining wall, and more, all of which were solved to produce an excellent result.

The 40-inch paths have a lip so blind people can follow the path with a cane. The labyrinth is 72 feet in diameter. The unique design (right) is copyrighted and may not be reproduced. It is a one-of-a-kind memorial to Nicole Unrath. The limestone blocks contain scriptural “I am” passages.
